

Modern Slavery Statement for Financial Year 2023

This statement has been created in line with the Modern Slavery Act 2015 and sets out the steps that Sewell Facilities Management take and continue to take, to ensure that modern slavery and/or human trafficking does not take place within our business or supply chain.

Modern slavery encompasses slavery, servitude, human trafficking and forced labour. Sewell Facilities Management have a zero-tolerance approach to any form of modern slavery. We are committed to acting ethically and with integrity and transparency in all business dealings and to putting effective systems and controls in place to safeguard against any form of modern slavery taking place within the business or our supply chain.

We will only do business with likeminded businesses, clients and supply chain companies who share our zero tolerance policy to any form of Human Slavery.

Our Business

Sewell Facilities Management is a multi-sector facilities company operating across the Yorkshire region under a parent company of Sewell Group Ltd.

We have a strong culture and set of values setting expectations of our people to do the right thing, not just for the environment, but for our people, supply chain and the wider communities and businesses we serve on a day to day basis.

Our Supply Chain

Sewell Facilities Management has a diverse collection of supply chain companies based across the UK. We have implemented and developed in-house specific systems which enable us to constantly review existing and potential supply chain members. We appoint 'champions' to monitor and manage our supply chain database and some specific supply chain members. All suppliers are required to complete questionnaires and provide business information as part of their registration as a preferred supplier of Sewell. We ensure that all supply chain companies who wish to be part of our supply chain database pass our questionnaire by adhering to our standards, industry standards and national legal requirements

Our policies

We operate a number of internal policies across the Sewell Facilities Management business unit to ensure that we are conducting business in an ethical and transparent manner. These are extended to our supply chain and more information on these is outlined below.

1. Our procurement policy is to source goods and services efficiently and fairly. Our procurement methods are compliant with legislation, including health and safety regulations, and confirms to our ethical, environmental, and responsible business standards.

2. Anti-Fraud, Bribery & Corruption policy. This policy states a zero-tolerance approach to these behaviors and to the deterrent of inappropriate practices within the business linked to this.
3. Code of conduct on Company business policy. This code explains the manner in which we behave as an organisation and how we expect our employees and suppliers to act.
4. Equal Opportunities & Dignity at Work policy. Governed by the Equality act, this policy explains the manner in which we treat and care for our people, customers, supply chain and potential recruits, ensure dignity, respect and fairness is promoted at all levels across the Group.

Training

whilst training has not been completed to date on the Modern Slavery Act, it is the intention of the business to train key policy makers and people in influential roles linked to our people, business, and supply chain during 2023 and further.

Due Diligence

As mentioned previously Sewell Facilities Management undertake a measure of all supply chain companies that engages with the business, and work in 2023 will consider any potential changes to supply chain and tender processes to ensure adherence to the Modern Slavery Act. We ensure that our due diligence measures are regularly reviewed by senior members of staff to ensure compliance with the latest national laws and industry standards.

Areas of Risk

We recognize the diversity of our supply chain across the business, and see the core risks being the supply of goods and services across the group which may have involvement in human slavery, trafficking and/or any other form of exploitation. To mitigate this risk, during 2023, a review of current due diligence will be completed and amendments put in place where necessary to ensure appropriate workings.
